“ACQUIRING ITALIAN RECORDS”

Presented by: Toni McKeen

Toni will walk us through four possible methods to locating foreign documents, what you will need to know before ‘hopping the pond’, how to read them, translation tips, and how to determine what these documents really tell us. The research principles are also valid for other nationalities.

About our Speaker

Toni McKeen: For the last 11 years Toni has been teaching several levels of genealogy in her home town of Ridgefield, CT. Toni is on a mission to expose as many people as possible to the fun, excitement, and importance of tracing their own genealogy. She believes documenting your family history is important for yourself and for future generations, even if they are not interested or have the time now.

Toni has also been a popular lecturer at various genealogy societies in the New York, Connecticut, Boston, and Long Island areas. Toni has presented programs for the Orange County Genealogical Society in the past and was very well received.
